A DREAM.

BY G. J. A.

In my sleep I saw a sight,
Standing at an awful hight:
Watching what they did below—
Coming forward to and fro.
Thought I some were strangely old,
And their blood was almost cold—
Barely strength to totter hence,
To hear the words of evidence;
And some were young, but all did weep,
Wakened from their last long sleep;
For all I saw I cannot tell
In words to suit the subject well:
But countless numbers had collected
Near the place to whence directed
By an awful voice that spoke—
"Come! my laws you all have broke;
Time shall cease, so come ye all,
To rise, or deep forever fall—
Rise, to be forever blessed,
Or sink to be forever cursed."
And as he spoke to those assembled,
Those who ne'er before had trembled
Now sank down in deep despair,
Knowing naught now could repair;
And some were covered with a light—
Dazzling, brilliant, awful bright—
These to the right were nearer than the rest,
And on a brilliant cloud impressed,
In letters golden, "Come, ye blessed!"
And more to the left than these there were
Countless thousands gathered there:
And one among them stood upright—
Hideous, awful to the sight—
Stood and clamored loud and long
To that assembled, dreadful throng;
And in his hand he held a brand,
And pressed on each one's forehead—
"Damned!"
And when that direful scene was o'er,
Thought I all that was before—
Of man's great works and triumphs bright,
And those that were a brilliant light
In worldly matters, passed away
Amidst the troubles of that day.

A SACRIFICE.

An English East Indiaman had run upon a reef or bar of sand a long way from the shore. The roaring, foaming seas were leaping upon the deck, and stamping it to pieces. They had crushed the boats like so many egg shells, and the frantic passengers were shrieking in the tempest for help. The Dutch settlers saw the sight and heard the cry and rushed down to the beach, apparently to do nothing but see the waters swallow up the men and women clinging to the rigging of the broken vessel, for they had no boat to push out into the surge, and none was within an hour's reach. The wreck would go to pieces before a raft could be made or anything floated from the shore. Human help there was none at first sight, but at the sharpest crisis of the agony a Dutch farmer galloped down to the sea on an Arabian mare, that was like another life to him: that had carried him through all the hazards of the wide world and its wilder beasts, and seemed to share her master's intelligence and divine as well as obey his will. She swam rivers and waded morasses with him on her back, and now he spurred her through the crowd, and without a momen't pause plunged into the sea with a rope attached to her tail. The brave creature shrank not an instant from the fierce wrestle with the baying waves. She struck them down with her iron hoofs, and breasted her way to the ship's side. It was but a minute's stay and she was making for the shore again, trailing a row of men and women clinging to the rope. The shouts of the crowd awaiting to receive them seemed to thrill her strained muscles with a new vigor; and when her feet struck on the earth, and she mounted on the beach and shook the salt water from her sides she looked round upon the half-drowned beings she had dragged to land and life. And it seemed given to her by the God of us all to show that she had done a good act. Her master patted her on the neck, as when they had faced the lions in the desert; he patted her with eyes turned toward the ship. It was but a minute's pause. "Once more, my Jenny, darling; once more," and she turned her head, and plunged again, without touch of spur into the sea. Once more she plunged into the surge, snorting over its briny crest. Once more she wheeled at the ship's side and headed for the shore, trailing another row of men behind her. Many times her head dipped above her nostrils in a breaking wave: many times she neighed as for help as she struck out heavily with the load dragging her down. She neared the land, but more slowly before and staggered up the ascent with trembling limbs. The second long and desperate tug through the surge had strained every nerve and muscle to its utmost tension, and she stood quivering, blown and exhausted.

There were several more human beings left behind on the crashing, broken hull; the darkness was closing in upon them and, certain death with the darkness. The brave hearted Dutchman heard that bitter cry, and saw that harrowing sight. Could he do more? Could he try it again? "Jenny, my darling! Jenny, can you do it?" and he put his arms around her neck, fondly and tenderly. She rubbed her head against his cheek, as if she said, "Master, if you will it, I'll try." He mounted her back, and without sense of spur or rein, she turned and walked straight into the foaming sea. Slowly, painfully, with weakening strokes, she made her way to the ship, and once more headed for the shore with the last passenger clinging to the rope. With hands and voices uplifted, stood the crowd on the beach. "O God of mercy and might, give the poor creature strength for this once." Her head is lost for a moment. "It is the wave between. There! she rises! see her mane on that white cap. O Heaven! be merciful! Do you see her now? No, but I see good Diedrich's hand above the water, reaching towards us. Now it is gone. O, poor, good man! he has gone down with his noble horse and all the men he tried to save. Noble Diedrich! God bless his widow and fatherless children! Dear, good man! he was thinking more of other men's widows and fatherless children than his own when he made that last ride into the sea."

That was the act of a Dutch boor on the coast of Africa—of a man belonging to a class which many writers of history and romance overlook in seeking for great deeds of heroism and chivalry, and for lofty sentiments of philanthropy or patriotism. If ever some one of the class fitted for the task should undertake to write the history of common working men and women of the world, deeds and dispositions of the same order and merit might be found to fill a hundred volumes.

A WONDER OF NATURE.—The California correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel gives the following account of a wonderful discovery which has just been made in that State:

"A vein of very curious rock has recently been discovered in El Dorado county, which as yet has failed to elicit from the scientifically inclined any satisfactory explanation. Several large slabs have been taken out and are now on exhibition in this city. Its peculiarity is that it represents landscape drawing wrought by the hand of nature thousands of years, perhaps, before the advent of man upon this mundane sphere. Mountain scenery is here portrayed on ineffaceable tablets by a peerless drawing-master, representing, in variegated colors, bold and rugged peaks rising one above another and descending in long, rolling ridges of hilly country.—Barren rocks, trees and manzanita brush in profusion give variety to the pictures, but nowhere is to be found that essential requisite to a complete scenic picture—a mountain stream. And here it would seem that even so matchless an artist as nature has actually blundered. Another singularity of this rock is that the pictures extend through the entire vein, so that, cut in any direction, it cannot be destroyed. The color is of a dull, heavy character, consisting mainly of grades of red, yellow and black—seen at a little distance they resemble merely a rude outline pencil-drawing. No geological savant has favored us with an opinion as to the cause and manner of their formation. The action of water and reflection in some as yet undefined way is the most plausible hypothesis advanced. It has given rise to a 'Photographic Landscape Rock Company,' who design shipping to the Atlantic States and Europe samples for exhibition. There is certainly no deception about it, and it may justly be classed as the eighth wonder of the world."

CERTAIN CURE FOR FOUNDER.—As soon as you discover the horse is foundered, take him to the nearest branch or stream of water and tie him in it standing, the water nearly up to his belly—his head being so high that he cannot drink. If the weather is warm let him stand in the stream several hours, then take him out, rub his legs thoroughly to promote circulation and again tie him in water, if he is still lame. By repeating this process two or three times the horse will be effectually cured.

If the weather is cold when the horse is foundered, that is, if it is in the winter, the horse must not be allowed to stand in the water more than about twenty minutes at a time, when he should be taken out and his legs rubbed dilligently till they become dry and warm and the circulation of the blood made active, and this process must be repeated till the horse is cured, which will be generally within twenty-four hours. This remedy will cost nothing, can do no possible harm and will in every instance cure, if the disease has not been of too long standing. Don't be afraid to try it.—[Rural World.

FOR PRESERVING FURS.—Ladies are often anxious about keeping furs free from moths during the summer months. Some one advertises to send the requisite information for $1. Darkness is all that is necessary. The "miller" that deposits the eggs from which moths are hatched only moves in light; the moths themselves work in darkness. Hang the furs in a very dark closet and keep the door shut; keep it always dark and you can have no trouble. But, as closet doors are sometimes left open, the better way is to enclose the articles loosely in a paper box, put this in a pillow case, or wrap around with cloth, and hang up in a dark closet. Camphor, spices or perfumes, are of no use. Continued darkness is sufficient. And do not take out the furs in June or July to give them an "airing," for even then cometh the enemy, and it may be that in fifteen minutes after exposure, has deposited a hundred eggs. If you consider an airing indispensable, give the furs a good switching and put them quickly back.—Country Gentleman.

IT is satisfaction to dig for water, because you know then that you are doing well.

PURCHASING A FARM.

Collector David Henshaw was a kind hearted man as well as able; but smart as he was, on one occasion in doing a generous act, he was sadly taked in. An old customer doing business in the town of Eaton, N. H., had failed, owing Mr. H's. firm about $2,000. After settling with his other creditors, he came to see Mr. H.

"Well, sir," said the latter, "what can you do for us?"

"Have saved my farm for you, sir," replied the unfortunate.

"Your farm, hey," said H., "and what have you got left?"

"Well, sir, a horse, a pig and a cow, and altogether I think they may bring me about seventy-five dollars—sufficient, I hope to get myself and family out to some of the western States, where I intend to settle; by the way, here's the deed of the farm," said the poor but honest debtor, as he passed the document which certified Mr. H's. legal right to two hundred acres of land, "more or less," and long known as the "Cold Stream Farm."

"Oh, that will never do," says Mr. H., and drawing his check for $500, he handed it to his old customer, remarking at the same time that he "was sorry for his misfortunes, and appreciating his integrity, it gave him great pleasure to be able to afford him a little assistance at starting again."

The poor fellow was greatly surprised, and reluctantly taking the check, "with a tear drop in each eye," heartily thanked his over-generous creditor and departed, but to be seen by H. never more.

About the first of April following Mr. Henshaw thought he would go up to Eaton and take a look at his real estate.—Arriving at the town about dusk, he "put up" at the tavern kept by his old friend March, who on learning his guest's errand, said he would go out with him next morning and show him where the farm lay.

Next day, soon after breakfast, the two salied out to see it. After proceeding a few rods the old tavern-keeper halted, and directing his companion's gaze to a bare but very steep and rough-looking mountain, that stood a mile or so off, remarked that "that was called Bald Mountain."

"That's a rough looking place," said the other.

"Well," continued the tavern-keeper, "the location of your property—the 'Cold Stream Farm'—is on the top of that mountain."

"Yes, but how do you get there?"

"Why, you don't suppose anybody was ever up there, do you, Mr. Henshaw?"

"Well, what's the good of it—what is done with it?' ruefully inquired the amazed merchant.

"The town sells it every year for the taxes," replied the landlord.

"They do, hey?" says Mr. Henshaw, "and pray tell me who in these parts is foolish enough to buy such property?"

"Why any of our chaps around here, who get into trouble or fail, buy it for the purpose of setting with their Boston creditors."

Mr. Henshaw took the first opportunity to return home, and perhaps would not have told the story, but a friend, in asking him as collector, to give a man a place in the curtom house, for one reason, among and above others, that he was from New Hampshire—when he gave this little bit of experience with one of the Granite State men.

VISIBLE SIGNS OF MILITARY RANK.—"The Land We Love" has this anecdote:

"While A. P. Hill's division was tearing up the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in the fall of 1862, Lane's brigade of that division was ordered further north than the other brigades, where a live 'reb' was a curiosity. At this time the quartermaster had not procured new clothing to take the place of the worn, tattered and ragged relics of the campaign into 'My Maryland,' and we were rather ragamuffins—that's a fact. Tearing up railroads is not a very pleasant business, and we had enjoyed ourselves for about twenty-four hours, when Captain K—— went to a house to get something cooked, and got into quite an interesting conversation with the good lady of the house. Said the old lady:

"'You is an officer, isn't you?'

"'Yes, madam; I am a captain in the Seventh North Carolina Infantry.'

"'Thar, now, Betsy Ann, I told you he was an officer. I kin tell an officer whenever I lays my two eyes on 'em.—The officers they have the seats of their breeches patched, and the common soldiers they doesn't.'"

OLD MAIDS.—A sprightly writer expresses his opinion of old maids in the following manner:

I am inclined to think that many of the satarical aspersions cast upon old maids tell more to their credit than is generally imagined. Is a woman remarkably neat in her person? She will certainly be an old maid. Is she particularly reserved toward the other sex? She has all the squeamishness of an old maid. Is she frugal in her expenses, and exact in her domestic concerns? She is cut out for an old maid. And if she is humane to the animals about her, nothing can save her from the appellation of an old maid. In short, I have always found that neatness, modesty, economy and humanity are the never-failing characteristics of that terrible creature—"old maid."

"DEATH VALLEY."

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, with Gen. Palmer's engineer corps of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, writing from Camp Cody, on the Mohave river, California, gives the following description of a remarkable valley in that region:

Eighty miles northwest of this camp is the well-known and much dreaded "Death Valley." It is said to be lower than the level of the sea, and wholly destitute of water. Mr. Spears, our intelligent guide, who visited this remarkable valley several times, gave me the following account of it, with the reason for its terrible name:

The valley is some fifty miles long by thirty in breadth, and save at two points, it is wholly encircled with mountains, up whose steep sides it is impossible for any but expert climbers to ascend. It is devoid of vegetation, and the shadow of bird or wild beast never darkened its white glaring sand. In the early days, trains of emigrants bound for California passed, under the direction of guides, to the south of Death Valley, by what is now known as the "old Mormon road." In the year 1850, a large train, with some three hundred emigrants mostly from Illinois and Missouri, came south from Salt Lake, guided by a Mormon. When near Death Valley, a dissent broke out in a part of the train, and twenty-one families came to the conclusion that the Mormon knew nothing about the country, so they apopinted one of their number a leader, and broke off from the main party. This leader determined to turn due west; so with the people and wagons and flocks he traveled for three days, and then descended into the broad valley, whose treacherous mirage promised water. They reached the centre, but only the white glaring sand, bounded by the scorched peaks, met their gaze on every hand. Around the valley they wandered, and one by one the men died, and the panting flocks stretched themselves in death under the hot sun.—Then the children, crying for water, died at their mothers' breasts, and with swollen tongues and burning vitals, the mothers followed. Wagon after wagon was abandoned, and strong men tottered and raved and died. After a week's wandering a dozen survivors found some water in the hollow of a rock in the mountains. It lasted a short time, then all perished but two, who, through some miraculous means got out of the valley and followed the trail of their former companions. Eighty-seven persons, with hundreds of animals, perished in this fearful place, and since then the name of Death Valley has been applied to it. Mr. Spears says that when he visited it last winter, after the lapse of eighteen years, he found the wagons still complete, the iron work and tires bright, and the shriveled skeletons lying in many places side by side.

WOULDN'T BE RECONSTRUCTED.—In the work by John Eston Cooke, entitled "Wearing of the Gray," the following anecdote occurs, which may, perhaps, be appreciated under present circumstances:

In 1863 the enemy caught an old contryman near the Madison Court-house, and informed him that he must do one of two things—either take the oath of allegiance to the United States Government or prepare to be buried alive. He declined to take the oath, when his captors deliberately proceeded in his presence to dig a grave, and when it was finished they led him to it and said:

"Will you take the oath?"

"No!" responded the prisoner.

"You had better!"

"I won't!"

"If you don't take the oath you will be buried alive in the grave in the next five minutes!" The old fellow approached nearer, looked with attention at the pit yawning before him, and then turning round, with his hands in his pockets, replied calmly:

"Well, go on with your d—d old funeral!"

REMARKABLE DISCOVERY IN TENNESSEE.—The Chattanooga Union says that Mr. Wm. Staples, while digging recently in a salt lick on his farm, a few miles northeast of Kingston, Tenn., struck a solid limestone rock about seven feet below the surface. He found in it a well, about eight inches in diametor, filled with very salt water. After the discovery of the well Mr. Staples prosecuted his investigations, and found to his surprise a line of salt kettles. The kettles were of stoneware, made of the same material as that used by the Indians for their houseware, such as plates, dishes, etc. The kettles were broken, but the curvature indicated that they were about three feet in diameter, and were about forty in number. A most striking fact connected with this discovery is, that the kettles were found at a depth of seven feet below the surface of the ground. Growing above them were trees-poplar and oak—which were evidently two centuries old.

A SUPPOSITION.—Suppose a man owns a skiff; he fastens the skiff to the shore with a rope made of straw; along comes a cow; cow gets into the boat; turns around and eats the rope; the skiff thus let loose, with the cow on board, starts down stream, and on its passage is upset; the cow is drowned. Now, has the man that owns the cow got to pay for the boat, or the man that owns the boat got to pay for the cow?

AN ORDINANCE

FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE

BOROUGH OF EBENSBURG, PENN'A.

CHAPTER I.—Auditors.

SEC. 1.—The borough auditors shall annually, not later than the second Tuesday of March, meet, examine, audit, and adjust the books, papers and accounts of the borough treasurer for the preceding fiscal year, which shall in all cases end on the last day of February.

SEC. 2.—They shall cancel all orders or vouchers which are by them allowed in the settlement of the treasurer's account, and shall immediately make and present to council a written report of the receipts and expenditures of the borough for the preceding year, and also return to the borough clerk all orders or vouchers so canceled by them.

CHAPTER II.—Burgess.

SEC. 1.—On Monday evening, succeeding the third Friday in February of each year, the burgess elect and the councilmen elect, or holding over, shall meet for the purpose of organization. At which time, unless they have previously done so in a legal manner, they shall take the oath prescribed by law. Upon neglect or refusal of the burgess or any councilman to take such oath for one month after his election, council shall declare his office vacant and proceed to fill the same according to law.

SEC. 2.—The burgess shall sign all orders drawn on the treasurer, but only for the payment of such bills as have been approved and directed to be paid by council; he shall have charge of the seal of the borough, and shall affix the same without fee or reward to all documents requiring to be thus authenticated.

SEC. 3.—The burgess shall have control of all police or police officers employed by the borough, and in case of emergency shall have power to appoint special policemen. But no such special appointment shall continue for longer than forty-eight hours, unless by order or consent of council.

SEC. 4.—The burgess shall see that the public peace is preserved, and shall enforce obedience to the borough laws and regulations; and may from time to time call the attention of council to such subjects as he may deem proper to lay before them.

CHAPTER III.—Borough Clerk.

SEC. 1.—The borough clerk shall draw all orders on the treasurer for the amount of all bills against the borough which have passed council, and shall keep a register of the same. He shall carefully file, for preservation, all returns, papers, vouchers, and other documents of the borough; he shall make out the duplicate for the use of the treasurer; he shall keep accurate accounts of the outstanding liabilities of the borough; and annually, in conjunction with the treasurer, immediately after the auditors' settlement, make and submit to council a report of the financial condition of the borough, including a statement of receipts and expenditures.

SEC. 2.—He shall record all ordinances passed by council in a book to be kept for that purpose, and perform such other appropriate duties as may be required by council. He shall keep correct minutes of the proceedings of council, and give due notice to the members thereof of any special meeting called by the burgess.

CHAPTER IV.—Council.

SEC. 1.—A stated or regular meeting of council shall be held on the fourth Monday evening of each month; but the burgess, when the interests of the borough require it, or on the written request of three members of council, shall call a special meeting of the same. At all meetings of council, the burgess shall preside, but shall have no vote unless they are equally divided. A majority of the members of council shall constitute a quorum. Seven o'clock shall be the time for calling each regular meeting of council to order for the transaction of business, unless otherwise ordered at a previous meeting. In the absence or inability of the burgess, a majority of the members may call a meeting of council by written notice.

SEC. 2.—At the first regular meeting of council in each year, they shall proceed to elect, viva voce or by ballot, the following borough officers, in the order named:

1. Borough clerk.
2. Borough treasurer and collector.
3. Street commissioner.
4. Weighmaster.
5. Market master.
6. Policemen.

Each of said officers, within ten days after his election, shall take and subscribe to an oath or affirmation to discharge his duties with zeal and fidelity. Otherwise, his election or appointment shall be void ab initio.

SEC. 3.—Special committees may at any time be appointed by council, and shall, if practicable, report at the next subsequent meeting after their appointment.

CHAPTER V.—Exhibitions.

SEC. 1.—No person or persons, not a citizen or citizens of the borough, shall exhibit within the limits thereof any theatrical or dramatical entertainment, or shall act, exhibit, play, or perform any opera, circus-riding, horsemanship, menagerie, exhibition, panorama, painting, sculpture, curiosity, tricks, musical party, concert, or other entertainment, show, or amusement, for which money or other reward is demanded or received, without a license had and obtained from the burgess and counter-signed by the clerk. The price or tax to be charged and received by the burgess, or in his absence or inability the borough officer designated by him, shall be not less than two nor more than fifty dollars. The precise amount thereof shall be determined by the burgess, or in his absence or inability by such other borough officer as he shall designate to collect the same.

SEC. 2.—For lectures on scientific, religious, or literary subjects; for fairs, exhibitions of paintings or statuary, by citizens of the borough; for musical parties or concerts, when any of the same are given for benevolent or charitable purposes, no license shall be required or charge made.

SEC 3.—No show, farce, exhibition, performance, or play of an indecent, immoral or blasphemous character or tendency shall be allowed, and any person offending herein shall be fined not less than five nor more than fifty dollars.—Any person violating any other provision of this chapter shall be fined a like amount.

CHAPTER VI.—Fires and Fire Engines.

SEC. 1.—The burgess or police of the borough, or any of them, shall have authority in time of fire to disperse all collections of idle or suspicious persons, and otherwise preserve order by preventing the commission of offenses at such times. Any person interfering with or refusing to obey such officer in the discharge of his duty under this section shall be subject to a fine of not less than two nor more than ten dollars.

SEC. 2.—The burgess shall provide a suitable place, at the expense of the borough, for any fire apparatus owned by the borough, and see that the same be kept in good working order and condition.

SEC. 3.—Any person or persons removing or using such apparatus for other than their proper purpose, injuring, defacing, or destroying the same, shall pay the costs of repair, or of rebuilding or remaking, and a fine of not less than three dollars.

SEC. 4.—Two firemen for each ward shall be annually appointed by the burgess, for the term of one year, whose duty it shall be to examine, with a view to ascertain their entire safety, all stoves, fire places, flues, chimneys, ovens, hearths, and other places used to contain fire or to conduct heat or smoke, and to use every proper means to prevent accidents by fire. They shall report to council the persons whom they have directed to make repairs or to rebuild. It shall be the duty of the street commissioner to see that the directions of the firemen are complied with.

CHAPTER VII.—Fines and Fees.

SEC. 1.—All fines and forfeitures under the provisions of the ordinances of the borough shall be recovered by a summary conviction before the burgess; and in all cases of conviction, the party convicted shall be liable to pay, in addition to the fine or forfeiture, the legal fees and costs which shall have accrued in the case.

SEC. 2.—In the case of any person sentenced by the burgess to imprisonment under any ordinance or regulation of the borough, or of any person who shall neglect or refuse to pay any fine that may be duly imposed on him by the burgess, with the fees and costs, such person shall be committed to the county jail, used as the borough lock-up, for a period not exceeding the time prescribed by law; and such fine, the fees, and costs, shall be collected by due process of law.

SEC. 3.—All fees and costs of the burgess and policemen shall be the same as for justices of the peace and constables of the borough of Ebensburg in like cases. But the borough shall in no case be liable for the fees and costs of such officer.

SEC. 4.—If any person shall in any manner interfere with or obstruct an officer or other person acting under the authority of the borough, in the discharge of his duty, or shall resist the enforcement of any ordinance or regulation of the borough, such person shall pay a fine of not less than three nor more than ten dollars.

CHAPTER VIII.—Police.

SEC. 1.—It shall be the duty of the police to enforce all borough ordinances or regulations, to make, or cause to be made, complaint to the burgess of all infractions of the same within their knowledge, to procure necessary proof thereof, and in subordination to the burgess to preserve the peace and quiet of the borough. They shall quell all riots, tumults, and other disturbances.

SEC. 2.—The policeman designated by the burgess shall post, or cause to be posted, as prescribed by law, all notices of elections held pursuant to any ordinance, resolution, or regulation of council, and all ordinances enacted by the same; and if in any case council require personal notice to be given, the policeman designated as foregoing shall serve such notice. They shall also execute all warrants and processes issued by the burgess.

SEC. 3.—If any officer of police or policeman shall neglect or refuse to enforce any ordinance or regulation of the borough, after his attention has been called to any infraction thereof by any citizen of the borough, he shall be fined in a sum not less than five dollars, in addition to any other penalty to which he may be subject by such neglect or refusal.

SEC. 4.—It shall be the duty of the burgess, on or before the first day of April of each year, to contract as favorably as possible with the proper county officers for the use of the jail of the county, for the detention of persons under commitment by him, and for the sustenance of the same while in confinement under his sentence. Such contract to be submitted to the next subsequent meeting of council for ratification, modification, or rejection.

CHAPTER IX.—Markets.

SEC. 1.—Regular markets shall be held in the borough market house on Tuesdays and Saturdays of each week, for the sale of fresh meat, poultry, butter, eggs, green fruit, grain, and vegetables. Market hours shall begin on said days at four o'clock, A. M., and shall close for the sale of fresh meat at 10 A. M. in May, June, July, August, and September.—No meat or other article shall be sold, bargained for, bartered, or ordered or placed in baskets, buckets, boxes, or pails, or other receptacles, for any person or persons previous to market hours, but all meat exposed on the hooks, racks, stalls, shambles, or other parts of said house shall be open to be bought at the regular rates by any and every person or persons equally, and all meats taken thereto shall be so exposed. Nor shall any fresh meat be sold in any other part of the borough than within the market house between the hours named and on the days named, in any quantity less than one quarter. Any person violating this section shall be fined not less than five nor more than twenty dollars.

SEC. 2.—All articles sold at said market house by weight or measure shall be weighed or measured by weights, scales, or measures duly regulated, under the penalty of one dollar for every offense.

SEC. 3.—No person shall slaughter or dress any animal in said market house, or on the public grounds adjacent thereto, or deposit any offal or garbage within said limits, or cause the same to be done, under a penalty of two dollars.

SEC. 4.—Any person selling any tainted meat in said market house, or unsound or unwholesome provisions, or veal under three weeks old, shall be liable to have the same seized by the market master, and to pay a fine of not less than five dollars.

SEC. 5.—If any person shall represent any article which he or she offers for sale at said market house to measure or weigh more than may be found by trial to be correct, such article shall be forfeited to the use of the borough, and the person offering the same shall pay a fine of not less than one dollar for each article whose weight or measure is thus misrepresented.

CHAPTER X.—Market Master and Stalls.

SEC. 1.—The market master shall attend in the market house during market hours on every market day. He shall have general superintendence therein, and shall see to the enforcement of all borough ordinances relating thereto. He shall cause the said house to be kept in clean and healthy condition. The stalls of said market house shall be rented annually on or before the first day of April of each year, the rent to be paid half-yearly in advance, and possession to be given only on payment. The annual rental of stalls shall be fifteen dollars for each stall. All terms or parts of terms shall expire on the succeeding first day of April. Any person renting for less than one year shall pay at the above rate with ten per cent. added. Any person occupying any of said stalls, and not having paid the rent therefor, may be excluded therefrom by the market master.

SEC. 2.—The market master shall give a bond, with security, to be approved by council, in the sum of fifty dollars, for the faithful discharge of his duties.

CHAPTER XI.—Nuisances.

SEC. 1.—No person shall place or cast any earth, brick, stone, coal, wood, filth, ashes, mortar, lime, shavings, dung, or substance of any kind (except articles for the purpose of loading or unloading, removing, or storing away, or building material, which shall not occupy more than five feet of the street, measuring from the line of the curbstone) on any square, street, sidewalk, or alley within the borough, under a penalty of not less than one dollar nor more than ten dollars, besides the expense of removing the same if removed by the street commissioner or by order of the burgess.

SEC. 2.—Any person who shall leave any vehicle with any animal or animals attached thereto, of any kind whatever, in any public square, alley, or street within the borough, and shall suffer the same to remain more than two hours, unless for the purpose of loading or unloading, shall be liable for every such offense to a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars. Provided, nothing herein contained shall apply to teams of persons in attendance at religious worship or service.

SEC. 3.—Any person obstructing any of the crossings on any of the alleys or streets of the borough shall be liable to a fine of not less than one nor more than two dollars for every such offense.

SEC. 4.—The occupant or possessor of any lot within the borough shall, when required by notice from the street commissioner, remove all wood, coal, ashes, barrels, boxes, or any other obstructions which may be, without legal authority, on the sidewalks, squares, streets, or alleys, in front of or adjoining the lot occupied by such person, from and off of the said sidewalks, squares, streets, or alleys, and any person neglecting or refusing to remove the same shall forfeit and pay a fine

MacShane Visiteth Altoona.

Dear Freeman—I am just "after" a visit to the "Mountain City"—Altoona. It is perhaps the most thriving inland town in Pennsylvania. Less than twenty years ago it was uninhabited, being a rather marshy tract of land known as the "Robinson Farm." Since that time, without manufacturing facilities—without water power—without navigation—it has grown to a city of some 12,000 inhabitants.

Ist location on the Pennsylvania Rail Road, and with reference to the "Alleghenies," has given it its great advantages, and caused it to grow into a flourishing city, as if by magic:

The city lies, in about equal proportions, North and South of the Pennsylvania Rail Road. The machine shops of the Company, (said to be the most extensive in the United States,) lie on the South side of the Road, while the offices of the General Superintendent, the Chief Engeneer, and all other offices connected with the general management of the road, are upon the North side.

I am not aware that a general descriptions of these mammoth establishments has ever been given to the public, and am not prepared to do so. Indeed if I had the time, your columns could not give the space, to enter into a general description I trust, however, you will have a full ac count ere long in the Vindicator or Tribune.

New York is called the "Empire City," Philadelphia the "City of Brotherly Love," in "Quaker City," Baltimore the "Monumental City," Washington the "Federal City," or "City of Magnificent Distances," New Orleans the "Crescent City," Cincinnati the "Queen City," Pittsburgh the "Iron City;" indeed all of our cities have an expressive designation of some kind. I propose the name of "Mountain City" for Altoona.

Altoona is so named in honor of—no person, or place, or any thing else that I know of. It has, of course, reference to the vicinity of the mountain, but I am at a loss to know even from what language the name is taken. I doubt not the founder, or perhaps the "earliest settler," could tell.

The Logan House is a fine hotel—larger than the Girard Hotel of Philadelphia.—The Exchange Hotel, by Col. Woods, and the St. Charles Hotel, by Mr. Rich'd M'Clain, are both exeellent houses—besides quite a number of others.

There are two newspapers—the Tribune, by M'Crum & Dern, a neutral paper of the Radical persuasion, and the Vindicator, a Democratic paper just started by J. F. Campbell & Son.

The citizens are imbued with a great spirit of enterprise; the city is lighted by gas and water works supply it with excellent water.

The City is temperate and orderly. It has suffered greatly from fires, many of them supposed to be the work of incendiaries; but apart from this offence the amount of crime is small in proportion to the population.

In the rear of the hill North of town an apparently unsuccessful attempt has been made to tunnel through to town—and has resulted in a colossal brewery. It will amply repay a visit, as a curiosity. Some years since, in company with Capt. Carroll, I adventured some hundred feet or so into this subterranean arrangement, stopping frequently to refresh by the way. When I got to the extreme verge of the "bore," I boldly exclaimed with Richmond:

"Thus far into the bowels of the land
Without impediment," &c.

But the Teutonic proprietor, thinking me drunk or crazy, ordered an immediate re-treat, (he had treated several times before,) and I found more difficulty getting out than I had getting in. A beverage known as Lager Beer is manufactured here. It has the general appearance of muddy water, but is supposed to be slightly stronger. Indeed, it has been gravely asserted by some that it has the power of intoxication—while others deny for it any such virtue. My own opinion is—that both sides are right. A perfectly educated drinker of lager beer may, by drinking discreetly, indulge in it for an entire night without losing his propriety. On the other hand, an uninstructed drinker, such as I found myself on the occasion referred to, may become confused in his ideas and "weak in the knees" by taking four of five glasses in quick succession; and will suffer under that feeling till he is relieved.

I attended a meeting of the Democrats in their splendid Hall. There was a lively and pleasant time. No truer Democrats in the world than those of Altoona, and they are in good earnest in their determination to aid in arresting the ruinous assaults of Radicalism on the Constitution and institutions of the country. A gentleman from your neighborhood made a speech, which gave great satisfaction, especially that portion in which he said he would not be a candidate for Congress any more. I thought he had better not—he has been beaten twice already—and I commenced in my own mind parodizing Dr. Muhlenberg's hymn to suit his case:

I would not run always—I can't make it pay,
For storm after storm rises dark o'er the way
No sunshine of hope can the shadows dispel
Of Barker, the Yankee—and Yankee Morrell.

I would not run always—in vain do I preach,
Congressional honors are out of my reach,
And all my achievements and feats on the stump
Still leave me unable to reach to the Rump.

N. B. The copyright of the above secured according to law.)

I visited the Catholic Fair. I had colored my hair and shaved my face—had a pale colored shirt and an irreproachable necktie. I expected to produce a sensation—for you know I'm not an old bachelor. But my anticipations were more than realized. A number of the handsomest ladies in the concern approached me with a freedom which nothing but Leap Year could account for. I of course made my best bow—assumed my blandest smile—and I had a triumph! As I entered into conversation with all my wonted krilliancy I was successful in arousing the jealousy of some of the "Fair" ones.

Shortly one of the ladies told me I could have a fine tea set for one dollar. I immediately invested. Another proffered me a watch at the same price, and I invested in that. I finally became bewildered with a jargon of pleasant confab and cheap bargains, and I kept purchasing in the same manner until my watch admonished me of the hour for retiring, when I spoke of the articles, but was informed that nothing was to be delivered till the Fair was over. I then left my address, and left myself.

Days fled—weeks fled—no news of any of my bargains. I inquired and learned that I was not to get anything. Then I thought of the Peter Funk auctions of New York City, and wondered if Altoona City was assuming the same func-tions! I met a friend from the ground—she confirmed what I had heard. I asked her, "Do you think this all fair?" She gave me an arch look as she replied, "Yes! it was nothing but 'Fair' all the time." "Those ladies," said she, "of whom you speak, are engaged in aid of a great charity—procuring a home for ths homeless. They are aiding their good pastor in the erection of a building for the Sisters, where the poor are to be cared for and the children educated to go in the right way, through our worthy clergyman; for," added she, "you know what the poet says: "'Tis education forms the common mind, Just as the Twigg is bent the tree's inclined."

So I felt that I had indeed "cast my bread upon the waters," and trust it will "return after many days."

Au Revoir, MACSHANE.

A CHAMBER TRIAL.—Senate sitting as a CAUCUS, presided over by the Chief Justice gagged like Mrs. Surratt.

DEAD DUCK swears the jury, two-thirds of whom take the oath with a mental reservation to break it.

Enter Ghost, Beast, Hangman, Secessionist, Repudiator, House of Representatives, and all the people of the United States.

President brought in in a Steel Trap.

Indictment, kidnapping Stanton.

Ghost cracks his whip, Beast dances, and trial proceeds.

Results of the Evidence. Law don't apply. Constitution does. No offence intended. None committed. Stanton not kidnapped.

Arguments heard. Beast howls. Ghost shakes his finger. Repudiator shakes his head, but there's nothing in it. Hangman grabs at another victim.

Jurors render their verdict. DEAD DUCK takes it. Guilty by a strict party vote.

Results of the trial. President removed. Wade promoted. Caucus divides the spoils. Constitution buried. General jubilee. Bonfires at the North. Negro processions at the South. Grant Dictator. Then Emperor.—Lanc. Int.

GENERAL SHERMAN INDIGNANT.—The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Times says:

"It is well known that General Sherman is indignant at the prospect of an unjust and partisan conviction of the President. He says that if Johnson is unjustly convicted, that he (Sherman) will appeal to the people of the United States against the finding of the Senate; that he will himself, if necessary, be the standard-bearer of the party opposed to such conviction, no matter who may be the standard-bearer on the other side, and that he will agree to stump the country on the question! This threat, delivered with the General's accustomed and well-known vehemence of manner, has greatly alarmed the Radicals, and there was a good deal of fluttering in their camp last evening in consequence."

K. K. K.—The Kuklux Klan are kalled upon to kastigate or kill any kullered kusses who may approve the konstitution being konkokted by the kontemptible karpet-baggers at the kapitol. Each Klan is kommanded by a karniverous kernel who kollekts his komrades with kare and kaution kommensurate with the magnitude of the kause. Whenever konvened, they must korrektly give four kountersigns—These are: Kill the kullered kuss; klean out the karpet-baggers; krush the konvention; karry konservatism; konfusion to kongress; konfederates will konker. Of kourse the klan kreates konsiderable konsternation among the kongos and there kurning konduktors, who kalkulate that their kareer may be kut short by katastrophies. Kurs, they kan't komplain.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

—An exchange says that Butler will go into Grant's Cabinet. No doubt, if it is not kept locked.

—At Lancaster, New Hampshire, the Connecticut river froze over in the month of April, after the winter's ice had gone, an occurrence unknown before.

—An exchange reports that a cat in Newport, Rhode Island, had adopted three chickens. Two have died and the third is fed, nursed and purred over by pussy.

—A Radical exchange says: "Anna Dickinson has lost her voice, and Heaven help her who finds it." This is ungallan', but then Anna's "loyalty" is more than suspected.

—A lad of eighteen, in Wisconsin, the son of wealthy parents, was recently detected pilfering money from his employer. He hung himself through mortification at the exposure.

—The propeller Gov. Cushman, exploded a boiler whilst running ont of the creek at Buffalo, on Saturday morning, by which eleven persons were killed and three wounded.

—The Democrats of Hagerstown, Md., carried their whole city ticket, last week, gaining 121 on last year's majority. There is no let up anywhere in the reaction against Radicalism.

—A temporarily insane man named Isaac Mace, living near Clifley, Indiana, on Saturday last shot his brother and badly wounded his uncle and aunt. Disappointed love was at the bottom of it.

—One "Doctor" De Land and his wife, of Adrian, Michigan, attempted to cure their grown-up daughter of fits by tying her into a chair, stripping her clothes from her body and deluging her with cold water. Her screams aroused the neighbors, who interfered and had the practitioners arrested.

—A little girl aged eight years, daughter of Levi Sanders, of Pond Hill, N. Y., was found on Saturday near her father's residence with her throat cut and life extinct. Her person had been horribly outraged. A half-witted boy named Wm. H. Carswell is supposed to have committed the murder and has been arrested.

—Carbonic acid compounds, it is stated, have been used with success for the preservation of the dead. The liquid is applied externally and by injection into the natural passages, no cut being made in the body. The progress of decay, it is asserted, is completely arrested, the color of the skin even being unchanged.

—Early on Saturday morning, an express messenger on one of the cars of the New York Central Railroad was gagged and bound by two men, who entered the car as the train passed Garrison. The robbers then secured about $10,000 and succeeded in leaving the car, upon its arrival in the city, before the situation of the messenger was discovered.

—Twenty persons were either seriously or slightly injured by the late railroad accident on the Allegheny Valley Railroad. They were mostly residents of Franklin, Venango county. One passenger car and the baggage car tumbled down a twenty foot embankment, rolled ever several times and were broken to pieces. Cause—running at too high a rate of speed around a curve.

—The prisoners in the Cleveland jail have revived the story that that uncomfortable domicile is haunted by the ghosts of two or three murderers, who have been hanged in the yard adjoining the building. Dr. Hughes, the wife-slayer, is the most regular of these ghostly visitors, dropping in every night, just after the stroke of midnight, and slowly promenading the corridor.

—When the Canaan child murderer, Brown, had received his sentence, to be hung on the 30th of May next, he remarked "all right." While Judge Peckham was passing sentence Brown was perfectly cool and unconcerned. After he was placed in the "murderer's cell," he said to a by-stander: "Why didn't they make it to morrow; what do they want to keep me in this stinking hole so long for?"

—The Irish Church Establishment, the "great scandal and tyranny of the age" has received its death blow. The Ministry, backed with the wealth and nobility of England, the Crown with all its hereditary rights, have been obliged to yield to the demands of the people. Its abolition was determined upon in the English House of Commons, on the night of the 30th ult., by a majority of sixty-five. This result will likely lead to the dissolution of the English Ministry.

—A shanty belonging to Patk Laughlin about a quarter of a mile east of Erie Rail, road depot, at Great Bend, Pennsylvania, caught fire on the night of the 3d inst. Laughlin and his wife were away from home and the house was in charge of a girl sixteen years of age, who, with six children of Laughlin's, was asleep when the fire broke out. The girl immediately on awakening went to the rescue of the children and succeeded in saving two of them; returning to get the others she was suffocated and the four remaining children perished with her.

PREMONITIONS.—It is stated that Palm Sunday, two days before his death, D'Arcy McGee spent at the house of a friend in Ottawa. While there he had a dream, the circumstances of which are as follows:

"The deceased went to holy communion in the morning at early mass. During the fore part of the day he wrote letters to the Earl of Mayo and Dr. Tupper, who is now in London. After dinner he retired to the library and had a short sleep. Upon returning to the family circle, he said he felt somewhat annoyed at a singular dream he had had. Upon the ladies asking him to repeat it he said: "I dreamt, I was standing by the Falls of Niagara, and saw a boat containing two men sailing down the rapids, and approaching the brink of the cataract. Seeing their danger and apparent ignorance of it, I rushed forward to warn them. The boat turned round and proceeded up the rapids, and I went over into the gulf beneath." These are, as near as possible, the words in which Mr. M'Gee told a dream which seems to have been a premonition of that death which so soon followed. It certainly derives great significance from its awful fulfillment."

A SLIGHT CHANGE.—Four years ago all Mongrelism, big and little, old and young, black and white, wanted to hang the "secesh" Senator and "traitor" from Tennessee, Jefferson Davis, on a "sour apple tree," and denounced every body and all their relatives as worse than traitors who would not fall down and worship the "great," the "good," the "fearless," the "patriotic," the "loyal Union" Senator from Tennessee, Andrew Johnson. Now Jefferson Davis, with all his "treason," is sent out from court without a trial, while Andrew Johnson, with his abundant "loyalty" and "Yeunionism," stands arraigned before them as a criminal unworthy the place they placed him in.—Bellefonte Watchman.

MR. EVARTS, who so ably defends President Johnson and so bitterly denounces the iniquity of impeachment, was the chief speaker at the Republican mass meeting which was held at the Cooper Institute, New York, on the 16th of last October. The New York Tribune is assailing him most bitterly for the course he is now pursuing, and every smaller Radical sheet in the country will be barking at him. It is a singular fact that very few really great lawyers are left in the Republican party. They cannot support it without stultifying themselves. Its doctrines are so perfectly subversive of the Constitution, and of all law, that no honest man with a well trained intellect can fail to condemn them.

USE THE BEST.—Blades' Euphonial Lubricators are a medical preparation in the form of a Lozenge, and are universally considered the most pleasant, convenient and effectual remedy in use for Hoarseness, Coughs, Colds, Croups, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Diptheria, and all Pulmonary Complaints. They are WARRANTED to give quicker and more lasting benefit in the above affections than any other remedy. Also to contain no deleterious ingredient, and not to offend the weakest and most sensitive Stomach.

THE FREEMAN.

THURSDAY, : : : MAY 7, 1868.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

EDITORIALITIES, LOCAL AND GENERAL.—We have inadvertantly dated a portion of our issue this week, on the outside pages, "one day behind the fair."

A mare belonging to Mr. Peachy, of Mifflin county, recently foaled a colt with but one eye and no upper jaw.

Judge J. D. Rea. of Hollidaysburg, a man highly esteemed wherever known, died suddenly on the afternoon of the 27th ult.

A little daughter of Mr. John Potter, of Altoona, was considerably injured, on Sunday week, by falling into a stone quarry at that place.

Mr. Theo. A. Shoemaker, of Cambria township, sprained one of his ankles pretty severely, on Monday, by making a misstep while engaged in plowing.

A little son of Joseph Clemen's, of Juniata county, died of lock-jaw, a few days ago, from the effects of a stroke on the cheek bone by a whip-lash.

Once more and for the last time we give our promised list of receipts the go by.—Mark it down as a fixed fact that the roll will be published next week.

A stated meeting of the "Mountaineer Base Ball Club" will be held at the Court House to-morrow evening, May 8th, at 8 o'clock, p. m. Business of importance will be transacted.

The Hollidaysburg Standard will make its appearance in an enlarged form next week. If there is one paper more than another that we would wish to see prosper it is the "gay and incomparable" Standard.

A young man named George Hamilton had one of his hands terribly mangled and his wrist dislocated at the C. I. Co.'s machine shop, Johnstown, on Saturday week, by being caught between a belt and pulley.

Several freight cars were wrecked at Conemaugh Station, one night recently, and a piece of timber from one of the cars struck Isaac D. Geughnour, a car inspector, in the face, breaking his nose and otherwise injuring him.

The office of the "Printers' Circular" and Printers' Furnishing Warehouse, formerly located at 36 Hudson street, has removed to 515 Minor street. Address all orders for material to R. S. Menamin, 515 Minor street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Our citizens were suddenly awakened from their slumbers, at an early hour on Tuesday morning, by a most terrific peal of thunder, and for a time many could scarcely realize "what the thunder had broke loose." Rain followed in copious profusion, of course, and we are now indulging in a plentiful supply of the softest kind of mud.

The last Johnstown Tribune says: A letter from Mr. Tobias Ashe, of Summerhill, this county, informs us that a few weeks ago Mr. S. S. Paul found at the water's edge in his mill-dam at that place the skull of a human being, worn as clean and smooth as a new pin, and supposed to be that of a young girl named Miller, who was drowned two years ago. No mention is made of the remainder of the skeleton.

Persons interested in bees and their product will find in Langstroth's Patent Movable Comb Bee Hive a disideratum long needed in the successful management of these profitable and busy little insects. There is no doubt about the efficacy of this new Bee-Hive, and our Northern Cambria friends who keep bees should call on or address Mr. Peter Campbell, Carrolltown, and secure one of these excellent Hives. See advertisement.

The usual number of catch penny swindles accompanied the big show, and several gudgeons in this vicinity invested more or less of their spare cash in all of them. One verdant individual from Jackson township is said to have went in on "three card monte" to the extent of two silver watches and a five dollar greenback, and came out that much poorer if not that much wiser for the investment. "A fool and his money," etc.

On Saturday morning week, a man named George Howard, a resident of Ligonier township, Westmoreland county, near Derry station, imprudently and without permission got upon a freight train at Derry station to ride to Latrobe, and when opposite the ticket office at Latrobe, jumped off the train, and falling, was caught by the cars and drawn under them, several wheels passing over him, mangling him terribly, and resulting in his instant death.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Friday last was unusually prolific of accidents in this neighborhood. On the afternoon of that day, while an old gentleman named Alexander Yenner and a young man named George Jones, both residents of this place, were driving in a buggy near the residence of Mr. Alex. McVicker, a mile or two from town, being on their way to attend a concert in Jackson township, the horse became frightened at a dog which ran out on the road barking, and started off at a rapid pace, and coming in contact with several logs lying on the road, upset the buggy, which threw the occupants out and injured them very severely. No bones were broken, fortunately, but both the gentlemen were considerably cut and bruised about their persons. Both gentlemen returned home in the buggy, and are now under medical treatment and doing well.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—F. A. Shoemaker, Esq., has recently purchased from William Kittell, Esq., one hundred feet of ground fronting on Julian street, in the rear of Mr. K.'s residence, for which he pays $1,000 in lawful currency.

Mr. John Wherley, of Huntingdon, bought out Mr. John O. Jones, farmer, of Cambria township, "lock, stock, and barrel," on Monday last, and takes possession on the first of June. For the farm of 125 acres, and improvements, he pays $2,500, but for live stock, farming implements, etc., we have not heard the aggregate sum stated.—He has made a clean sweep, and we trust he will find it a paying investment.

LARCENY.—Mr. Wm. Mills, on duty at the Union House in this place, was relieved of a valuable silver watch, at an early hour on Thursday morning last, by some one of the light-fingered gentry who were following in the wake of the show exhibited here the day previous. Mr. Mills had been up during the night attending to the preparation of meals for the departing showmen, and was taking a quiet nap between meals on a chair in the bar-room, from which nap he awakened about four o'clock to find himself minus his patent lever. There is little doubt but what the thief, watch, menagerie and circus left town about one and the same time.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—On Wednesday last, Stephen Lloyd, Esq., departed this life, aged 84 years. The deceased was our "oldest inhabitant." He came hither, with his father, Mr. Reese Lloyd, when Ebensburg was a howling wilderness, and resided here uninterruptedly till his death. He was justly loved and respected throughout his long and eventful life, and in death his memory will be revered. We have been promised a more complete obituary notice of the deceased for our next paper.

ANOTHER CARBON OIL EXPLOSION.—A Young Lady Burned to Death.—The most shocking and heart-rending accident, perhaps, that has ever transpired in Ebensburg, had its occurience at the residence of Mr. Edward Humphreys, on Friday evening last, and resulted in the terrible injury and subsequent death of a young lady named Catharine Davis, aged about twenty years. The facts as we have learned them are that Miss Davis was in attendance upon her sister, (Mrs. Humphreys,) who was confined to bed by sickness, and by her was requested, about nine o'clock on the evening in question, to go down stairs and bring her a drink of water. The unfortunate girl started to comply with the request, taking with her a carbon oil lantern, and while descending the stairs she noticed the flame in the lantern blazing up to an unusual height. Becoming alarmed, she attempted to blow out the light, when the oil became ignited and exploded in an instant, enveloping her in flames, which soon communicated to her clothing, almost every thread of which was burned from her person, and herself injured beyond any hope of recovery, before available aid reached her from any quarter. There was no one about the house, it seems, able to render her any assistance, and those of the neighbors who reached the scene first thoughtlessly attempted to subdue the flames by drenching the unfortunate victem with water, which only rendered the matter worse. Mrs. Wm. Williams had the presence of mind, however, to run from her house with a quilt, which she succeeded in rapping around the poor girl, after having burned her own hands severely, and by this means the flames were overcome—not, however, until internal and external injuries had resulted which proved fatal about 9 o'clock on the following night, the unfortunate young lady having in the meantime borne the most excruciating torments which human mind could conceive of.

The charred remains of the young victim of this heart-rending catastrophe were accompanied to their last earthly habitation in the Union graveyard, on Monday, by an immense throng of sympathizing people, and while the greater portion of the females in attendance gave vent to their feelings in weeping and lamentations, the stouter hearted manifested by their subdued looks and low sobbings that their hearts too pulsated with pity and commisseration for the sad and tragic fate of one so young, so buoyant and so full of bright anticipations for the future.

THE NEW DISCIPLES CHURCH.—The new church building erected by the Christian congregation, or Disciples of Christ, on High street, in this place, is now completed, and was on last Friday evening, May 1st, opened for the worship of God. The building is of brick, is 55 feet long by 36 wide, having a vestibule of 8 feet at the entrance, over which is a gallery 8x36 feet, capable of seating about 50 persons; height of ceiling, 20 feet, and the whole house will comfortably seat about 300 persons. The entire cost, $4000. On Friday evening, a goodly number of the members of the church and others being assembled, a sermon was delivered by Joseph King, of Allegheny city. On Saturday evening, the congregation was addressed by George Lobingier, of Indiana county.

Lord's day morning: The house this morning was thoroughly filled, and its congregation again addressed by Joseph King, after which, the dedicatory prayer was offered by James Darsie, of Somerset. A hymn was then sung, and after a few remarks by James Darsie in reference to the debt remaining on the building, a collection was taken up, amounting to $37; and afterwards, pledges were given by the members of the church which amounted to $570, making the whole sum contributed $667.—During the week thus far, other sums have been given, amounting to between $100 and $200. So that the remaining indebtedness is small—but about $200.

At 3 p. m., the house was again completely filled, and a sermon preached by James Darsie and again at 7½ o'clock in the evening, when the congregation was addressed by Joseph King.

There will be preaching in this church every evening this week; also next Lord's Day, morning and evening, and the public are cordially invited.

A sermon was delivered last evening (Tuesday) by Joseph King, of Allegheny, to young men, on "Nobility of Character."

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR PUBLIC PATRONAGE.—It is a fact patent to most of our citizens that Mr. M. L. Oatman has taken the store-room recently occupied by J. A. Maguire & Co., into which he has this week introduced a well selected and varied stock of dry goods, groceries, notions, confectioneries, tobacco, cigars, etc, and as this means business, he has made up his mind to sell all his goods at prices which cannot fail to tempt the buying public to give him a call when in quest of bargains. We need not attempt to enumerate the many articles comprised in Mr. Oatman's stock, but advise all our friends to look in on him and see if he has not got many things which they need, and then determine from his prices whether money cannot be saved in dealing with him. Mr. Oatman designs making a specialty of the sale of the justly celebrated Metropolitan Oil, and when it is fully introduced, we have no doubt that it will be used by every family in this community. It can be furnished at a much less price than carbon oil, produces a more brilliant light, and is strictly non-explosive. In view of the recent shocking accident in our midst, the latter fact alone will beyond doubt commend the new oil to general consideration.

WORTHY OF COMMENDATION.—Our artist friend up street, Mr. T. T. Spence, is certainly worthy of special commendation for the artistic and perfect style in which he executes Photographic and other representations of the "human face divine," as well as of inanimate objects upon which he has operated. The pictures exhibited in front of his Gallery bear testimony to his proficiency as an artist, and evince the fact that he is fully as competent to render satisfaction in his art as any photographer in the country. Very few people can resist the temptation of "seeing themselves as others see them," and when the temptation comes on them we advise them to consult Mr. Spence. His work is excellent and his prices low. He has recently taken a negative of the altar in the Catholic church of this place, as it appeared most tastefully and beautifully decorated for the Easter festival, and is prepared to furnish copies at one dollar each.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Harriet, youngest daughter of Geo. C. K. Zahm, Esq., had the misfortune to strike one of her eyes with the point of a scissors blade, on Thursday last, and it is feared the sight has been entirely destroyed. She was endeavoring to undo a knot in the rope of a swing when the scissors slipped and struck her in the eye, as above stated.

SEWING GUIDE.—A neat and desirable little article which will be appreciated by every lady in the land who does sewing by hand, is the Sewing Guide, which not only protects the finger from injury but enables the operator to do her work with exact regularity. Call on us and see it.

THE LATEST SENSATION.—As a house-furnishing and agricultural depot Mr. Geo. Huntley's establishment is unexcelled in this part of the State, and as a shrewd and enterprising business man the proprietor is never slow in introducing new articles of merit to his customers. The latest sensations brought out by him are the Doty Clothes Washer and the Universal Clothes Wringer—two articles which cannot fail to be appreciated and highly prized by every housewife who can coax her husband into the purchase of them. There is no doubt about the excellence of both these machines, as we have abundant evidence for asserting, and the testimony given elsewhere in regard to the first named is not any more than its merits entitle it to. Mr. Huntley should meet with an extensive sale of these articles.

Raise aloft the banner, boys—fling it to the breeze;
Let your voices ring from mountains to the seas:
Let the joyful news be told to maids and matrons fair—
"The cheapest place to buy your goods is at the store of Leopold Mayer!"

A magnificent stock of dress and millinery goods of all descriptions kept in endless variety, and sold so cheap that no one can resist the temptation to buy. Don't forget Leopold Mayer's mammoth establishment, Parke's new building, Main st., Johnstown.

A DAY or two since, one of our citizens mysteriously disappeared, and for a time all attempts to discover his whereabouts were futile. He was last seen going up High st., and after passing the "Diamond," all trace of him was lost. Our people turned out en masse, and after a long and laborious search at last discovered the lost one in C. T. Roberts' store, where he was engaged in endeavoring to take the measure of the new stock of silver plated ware just received at that magnificent establishment.

PONCE DE LEON is currently reported and generally believed to have spent a large part of his life in endeavors to discover the fountain of perpetual youth. But in vain. The fountain was never discovered, and Ponce died with as many wrinkles and as many gray hairs as anybody. Had he, instead of seeking after that which cannot be found, tried to discover the cheapest place where goods can be bought in the country, he would no doubt have been successful.—R. R. Davis' store is that place.

THE first bird of spring
Attempted to sing,
But ere he had uttered a note
He fell from the limb,
And a dead bird was him—
The music had friz in his throat!

This unfortunate ornithological specimen is now on exhibition at H. A. Shoemaker's store, where also are to be seen the prettiest and cheapest spring goods in town.

A COUPLE of countrymen, looking at the new hats in a hat store, were delighted with a sample that had a small mirror on the inside of the crown. "That there glass was put there," said one of them, "so a fellow can always tell just how his hat fits him!" The hats sold at Thompson's store—the spring stock just received—are of the latest and best styles, and warranted to fit.

DIRECTORS and others who may want blanks, or any information in regard to the schools of the county, will please address Tho. J. Chapman, Co. Supt., Ebensburg.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

JOHNSTOWN, May 4, 1868.

Dear Freeman—Under the combined influence of Forepaugh's circus and pay-day at the Mill our town was reasonably lively last week, and the customary little set-to's and big drunks were among the usual order of exercises. A light-fingered female was sent up in default of bail for robbing a lady on the street of her pocket-book, which contained about two dollars in money.

Two birds were caged on Saturday night for taking on a rather elongated cargo of lightning benzine. Being duly repentant next morning, they were permitted to depart after making a deposit of several dollars each in the hands of the Burgess.

The Turners have now a building in course of erection on the old Basin, which they design using as a temporary Hall. It it is a pretty large structure, and will be bedded with tan bark in lieu of a floor. Our gymnastic Teutonic friends will now have a chance of throwing themselves around loose.

Mr. John Brady, the gentlemanly proprietor of the Franklin House, will depart this town on Thursday next for Ireland. We hope John won't be arrested as a Fenian emissary, but that his journey may be a safe and propitious one.

A temperance lecture was delivered here on Wednesday evening last, and was well attended. Mr. A. C. Bradley, a reformed drunkard from New York, was the spokist.

Mr. A. J. Hawes is rebuilding his Cement Mill, which was destroyed by fire a couple of weeks since.

Our police have donned their new uniforms, and look as gay as drenched peacocks in a country barn-yard. No doubt the "peace and order" of our town will be strenuously kept up, as so much brass buttons will strike terror to the hearts of all evil doers.

It is my painful duty to announce this week the sudden and unexpected demise of Lizzie, wife of John Ryan, which sad event occurred on Monday of last week, at her residence in Cambria City. The writer hereof had known this estimable lady for years, and her kind disposition and pure life endeared her to him far beyond what mere words can express. The casket has been laid away in the silent churchyard on the hill, but the gem has been transferred from its setting to enjoy an eternity of happiness in the presence of Him whom she so well and truly served during her brief probation in this world. The stricken husband has the sympathies of our entire community in his sad bereavement, and of the immense cortege who followed her remains to their final resting place, there were few who did not drop a tear to the memory of the pure, high-minded and gentle Mrs. Ryan. May she rest in peace. SKU BAL.

MARRIED.

SKELLY—LINGELL.—At Wilmore, on Tuesday, April 28th, by Rev. John Hackett, Mr. Wm. A. Skelly and Miss Jennie Lingle.

Our friends have arrived at the sensible conclusion that single blessedness is not what it's cracked up to be, and consequently they have donned the hymenial yoke with the intention of pulling in double harness for the balance of their lives. May a long career of uninterrupted happiness be theirs;

And may their future always be
Unclouded and from sorrow free;
And may the little Skellys rise
To men and women great and wise. A.

628 HOOP SKIRTS 628.

WM. T. HOPKINS' "OWN MAKE"
OF
"KEYSTONE SKIRTS"

are the best and CHEAPEST LOW PRICED Hoop Skirts in the market. Trail Skirts, 25 springs, $1.00; 30 springs, $1.20; and 40 springs, $1.45. Plain Skirts, 6 tapes, 20 springs., 80 Cents; 25 springs, 95 Cents; 30 springs, $1.15; and 35 springs, $1.25. Warranted in every respect.

Our OWN Make" of "UNION SKIRTS," Eleven Tape Trails, from 20 to 50 springs, $1.20 to $2.50. Plain, Six Tapes, 20 to 50 springs, from 95 Cents to $2.00. These Skirts are better than those sold by other establishments as first class goods, and at much lower prices.

"Our OWN Make" of "CHAMPION SKIRTS" are in every way superior to all other Hoop Skirts before the public, and only have to be examined or worn to convince every one of the fact. Manufactured of the best linen-finished English Steel Springs, very superior tapes, and the style of the metalic fastenings and manner of securing them surpass for durability and excellence any other Skirt in this country, and are lighter, more elastic, will wear longer, give more satisfacttion, and are really cheaper than all others. Every lady should try them. They are being sold extensively by Merchants throughout this and the adjoining States at very moderate prices. If you want the best, ask for "Hopkins' Champion Skirt." If you do not find them, get the merchant with whom you deal to order them for you, or come or send direct to us. Merchants will find our different grades of Skirts exactly what they need, and we especially invite them to call and examine our extensive assortment, or send for Wholesale Price List.

To be had at Retail at Manufactory, and of the Retail Trade generally, and at Wholesale of the Manufacturer only, to whom all orders should be addressed.

April 2, 1868-4m. WM. T. HOPKINS.

☞ H. A. Shoemaker & Co. are the only dealers in Ebensburg who keep these celebrated Skirts for sale.

FOR THE BEST
PIANO FORTES.

Sole Manufacturers of Grand and Square Patent Monitor Plate Piano Fortes, with DOUBLE IRON FRAME.

A COMPLETE PROTECTION AGAINST WET, COLD OR HOT CLIMATE.

(Patented February 20th, 1866.)

WARRANTED FOR FIVE YEARS.

Warerooms, 452 Broome St., New York.

The Patent Monitor Plate Pianos by their peculiar Construction are superior to all others, and their merit consists in the wrest plank being supported by the iron frame, allowing a larger space for the sounding board than is possessed by any other kind of Piano. By this means the quantity as well as the quality of the tone is largely increased.

These Pianos have been pronounced by the best judges to be unrivalled for Power and Sweetness of Tone, Easy and Agreeable Touch and Beauty of Finish.

Most flattering certificates of excellence from Thalberg, Gottschalk, Strakosch, Vieuxtemps, and a large number of the most distinguished Professors and Amateurs. From long experience and superior facilities for Manufacturing, we are enabled to offer our Pianos at as low prices as are asked by inferior makers.

Send for Circular and Price List.

NOTICE IS HEREB

of not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars for each and every offense.

SEC. 5.—Any person who shall keep or suffer to remain upon his premises or private property, any carcass, garbage, offal, putrid meat, nauseous liquor, or any offensive or unwholesome matter, or any person casting the same upon any lot or ground wi hin the borough limits, or upon any of the streets or alleys thereof, shall be guilty of maintaining or causing a nuisance, and shall be liable for the expense of removing the same and to a fine of not less than five nor more than twenty dollars.

SEC. 6.—No stovepipe shall project through any part of any house, shed, or other building, except the roof thereof, and all pipes, flues, and chimneys shall rise a distance of not less than two feet above the roof of such house, shed, or building, under a penalty of five dollars

SEC. 7.—Any person who shall willfully suffer his horse, mare, gelding, mule, goat, sheep, swine, hog, pig, sow, or sl.oat to run at large in the borough shall pay a fine, on conviction of such offense, of not less than one nor more than ten dollars. It shall be the duty of the street commissioner and police to seize and impound any such animals so running at large, and to give information to the burgess of every such offense. If, after four days' public notice of the taking up of any such animal, the same is not claimed and the fine, costs, and charges for keeping paid, it shall be sold at public sale to the highest and best bidder; and the proceeds, after deducting the fine, costs, and charges, shall be paid to and remain in the hands of the borough treasurer, subject to the call or order of the owner of such animal. Any person on whose premises any domestic fowl shall enter or trespass, may take up or kill the same, between April 1st and November 1st of each year.

SEC. 8.—Any person who shall engage in horse racing, or shall willfully ride or drive any horse, mare, gelding, or mule at a faster gait than a slow trot in, on, or through any of the streets, alleys, or public grounds of the borough, shall be liable to a fine of not less than two nor more than ten dollars for every such offense. Nor shall any horse, mare, mule, or gelding, or any team of such, be permitted to stand and remain within the limits of the borough unless securely hitched or held, under a penalty of not less than one dollar.

SEC. 9.—It shall be deemed and considered a common nuisance for any stallion or jack to be led to or suffered to cover a mare or jenny in public, within the borough limits, and the penalty for every such offense shall be not less than five nor more than ten dollars.

SEC. 10.—The owner or keeper of every dog or dogs within the borough shall be liable to an annual tax for every dog so owned or kept of one dollar, and for every bitch two dollars, such tax to be levied and collected by the borough treasurer. Any person willfully evading this provision shall be liable to a fine of twice the amount of such tax for each dog so owned or kept, or bitch, as the case may be. Provided, that nothing contained in the foregoing shall authorize any bitch while in heat to run at large, but the owner of such bitch, or any person controlling or exercising any agency over the same, or on whose premises the same may be allowed to remain, shall securely keep the same from so running at large, under a penalty of five dollars.

CHAPTER XII.—Public Peace.

SEC. 1.—It shall be the duty of the police at all times to apprehend all suspected night walkers, malefactors, vagabonds, rogues, and disorderly persons who may be found upon the streets, corners, or alleys, on the sidewalks, in front of public places, in drinking saloons or other places, and bring all such persons as may be apprehended before the burgess to be examined; and each such above described person as shall be convicted of disorderly conduct calculated to disturb the peace, or of being found gathered together in disorderly assemblages, shall be fined not less than one dollar nor more than twenty-five dollars for each offense.

SEC. 2.—All persons are strictly prohibited from standing, lounging, or loitering upon the sidewalks in front of or near to any of the churches or other public buildings in the borough during the time of holding any service or meeting therein, or in any wise preventing or obstructing the free ingress or egress of any person in attendance thereat, and all persons so offending shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than two nor more than ten dollars.

SEC. 3.—Any person or persons who shall be engaged in fighting, quarreling, or otherwise creating disturbances within the limits of the borough, shall pay a fine of not less than one nor more than twenty-five dollars.

SEC. 4.—Any person who shall, within the limits of the borough, willfully discharge any gun or fire arms (except in necessary defense of self or property), or shall wantonly throw any metal, stone, brick, bullet, or other missile, or who shall explode any torpedo, bomb, or fire crackers, or fire works in the streets, or raise any false alarm of fire, shall for every such offense forfeit and pay a fine of not less than one nor more than ten dollars, in addition to any damage he may occasion; or if any person shall mutilate, injure, deface, or destroy any fence, house, or gate within the borough limits, such person shall for every such offense forfeit and pay a fine of not less than one nor more than ten dollars.

SEC. 1.—It shall be the duty of the burgess, and every other officer acting under authority of the borough, who may and shall receive any funds of the borough derived from fines, rents, tax, or any other source, to pay the same to the borough treasurer before the twentieth of each month, and to submit at the expiration of his term of office in each year a statement of all funds so derived, and upon what account expended, if any.

SEC. 2.—It shall be the duty of any borough officer or committee who may and shall contract any debt in behalf of the borough, or employ any person in behalf of the same, to report the amount of any debt so contracted, and the name of any person so employed, and for what purpose. No debt or demand shall be received or paid by council until this provision is complied with.

CHAPTER XIV.—Sidewalks.

SEC. 1.—If any person owning any lot or ground within the borough shall refuse or neglect to put down or pave his respective sidewalks or footways within the borough in thirty days after being required and notified by council so to do, the street commissioner shall do or cause the same to be done, at the expense of the borough, and such person shall be liable to the borough for the cost of the same and ten per centum added.

SEC. 2.—No opening, railing, or passage-way into cellars not made previous to April 15th, 1868, shall be allowed to extend more than three feet upon any sidewalk of any street, or alley of the borough. All cellar-ways, without any exception, shall be securely covered or protected with a door or doors, to shut as evenly as may be with the sidewalk. Nor shall any step or steps, signs, porches, or other like projections or obstructions, be allowed to extend over or occupy more than three feet of the sidewalk from the inner or building line thereof, under a penalty of not less than two nor more than ten dollars, and every continuance thereof for one week after the first conviction shall constitute a fresh offense. Provided, that this section shall not apply to such porches or other projections built prior to April 15th, 1868. Nor shall anything herein contained be construed to apply to any ornamental tree, awning, or hitching post, safely placed on the line of the curbstone of any sidewalk.

SEC. 3.—All cellar doors or passage-ways from the sidewalk down to any cellar or excavation shall be kept in good and safe condition. The same shall be kept safely closed after nightfall and until daylight. Any violation of this section shall be under a penalty of not less than one nor more than ten dollars.

CHAPTER XV.—Streets and Alleys.

SEC. 1.—The pavement or sidewalk of every street in the borough shall have a width of not less than ten feet, measuring from the building line to the curbstone.

SEC. 2.—Any lamp, awning, sign post, shade or ornamental tree, planted on or along any such pavement or sidewalk, shall be deemed and considered a common nuisance, unless the same be placed or planted in or along the line of the curbstone of such pavement or sidewalk, and neither outside of nor within the same.

SEC. 3.—If any person shall willfully and wantonly cut down or injure any ornamental, shade, or fruit tree, lamp, sign, or awning post, legally planted or placed on any sidewalk or pavement of the borough, or on public or private ground, such person shall be liable to a fine of not less than five dollars.

CHAPTER XVI.—Street Commissioner.

SEC. 1.—It shall be the duty of the street commissioner to enforce or cause to be enforced, all regulations or ordinances relating to streets, alleys, or other thoroughfares of the borough and of the public grounds, and of all drainage of the borough, and of opening, closing, or widening the same. He shall be subject to the direction of the burgess and council, and may make contracts and hire all necessary labor, subject to the approval and confirmation of council.

SEC. 2.—He shall attend every regular meeting of council, and report thereat all work done, and by whom, and lay before council such work as he may deem necessary to be done. He shall have charge of all tools and implements belonging to the borough, and shall be accountable for the same.

CHAPTER XVII.—Treasurer.

SEC. 1.—The treasurer shall give bond, with surety, to be approved by council, in such sum as they shall designate. He shall receive all moneys accruing to the borough, and shall pay out the same only upon orders signed by the burgess and countersigned by the clerk. He shall also redeem all bonds, coupons, or certificates of indebtedness issued by the borough, whenever the same are due and payable.

SEC. 2.—He shall cause the accounts of his office to be kept in a clear and correct manner, and so as to exhibit the items of receipts and expenditures. He shall keep a register of all dogs in the borough on which tax should be paid. He shall give bond, with surety, to be approved by council, in such sum as they shall designate, as treasurer of the bounty fund.

CHAPTER XVIII.—Weighmaster & Scales

SEC. 1.—It shall be the duty of the weighmaster to weigh all hay, coal, or live stock, or such other articles or things as may be presented for that purpose at the weigh scales of the borough, and to furnish a proper and numbered certificate of the quantity in weight or bushels of the article or thing weighed, to the party having the same weighed, and when the name of the purchaser can be ascertained, his name shall be inserted in the certificate.

SEC. 2.—No person shall be permitted to sell or deliver any hay or coal within the limits of the borough in carts, wagons, sleds, or other vehicles, until the same shall have been weighed upon the borough scales, and the number of pounds or bushels, as the case may be, duly ascertained by the weighmaster; and if any person shall sell or receive payment for any load of coal or hay not so weighed, and the weight or bushels thereof so ascertained, or before receiving a certificate thereof from the weighmaster, or having received such certificate, shall sell or receive payment for such load, or part of it, without delivering the certificate to the purchaser, such person shall be liable to a fine of not less than five nor more than twenty dollars for each offense.

SEC. 3.—It shall be the duty of the weighmaster to keep the borough scales in good order and repair. If mud, dirt, or other extraneous substances shall adhere to any vehicle weighed, it shall be his duty to make a suitable deduction on account thereof, as also for any undue moisture in hay or other article weighed. If any person shall present or make use of a false certificate, or of one issued on some other load than that on which it is fraudulently used, he shall pay a fine of not less than five nor more than twenty dollars.

SEC. 4.—The following shall be the rate of charges by the weighmaster:

Load of coal drawn by one horse.....10 cts.
" " " two horses.....15 "
" " " more than two horses.....20 "
Live stock per cwt., (provided no draft shall be less than 20 cts.).....2 "
Hay or straw, 1,000 lbs. or over.....25 "
" " under 1,000 lbs.....20 "

CHAPTER XIX.—Pedlars.

SEC. 1.—No person or persons shall be allowed to hawk or peddle any wares, goods, or merchandise, by sample or otherwise, until such person or persons shall have paid to the burgess or treasurer, for the use of the borough, a tax in the sum of two dollars and fifty cents. On so doing, such person or persons shall be privileged to hawk or peddle in this borough for a period not exceeding one week.—When two or more persons are engaged in hawking or peddling the same articles, the said tax shall be paid by or for each. Any violation of this provision shall be under a penalty of not less than five dollars.

CHAPTER XX.—Repealing Section.

SEC. 1.—All ordinances heretofore passed by council are hereby repealed, excepting such ordinance or ordinances as may relate to the opening, changing or extending any street or alley of the borough, or fixing the width thereof, and any part of any ordinance authorizing the issuing of bonds and regulating the mode of payment thereof.

Passed finally by Council April 2d, 1868

WE ARE STILL MAKING A COMPLETE REVOLUTION IN TRADE, and selling every description of Dry and Fancy Goods, Plated Ware, Jewelry, Watches, Sewing Machines, &c., for the uniform price of ONE DOLLAR. We would impress upon our patrons that our Stock is not composed of second handed goods or Pawn Broker's unredeemed stock, but goods carefully selected direct from American and European Manufactories, the greater portion of which are MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY FOR US, which fact enables us to offer our customers better Goods for the money than those who profess to be "Manufacturers' Agents," or than can be obtained in any other way.
The unparalleled increase of our business, and the endorsement of prominent business men and the press in general, is a convincing proof that we have adopted the fairest and most popular system ever placed before the public. We are the first who have attempted to make a "Revolution in Trade," by enabling the public to procure goods in small quantities at manufacturers' prices, thus saving the consumer three large profits made in passing through the hands of the Commission Merchant, the Wholesaler, and Retailer.
Send Clubs of ten or more, with ten cents for each descriptive check, and the getter up of the club will receive a present worth $3 to $390, according to number sent. ☞Send for our New Circular. We have also made arrangements with the GREAT ORIENTAL TEA CO., of Boston, so that we can furnish our customers with other Goods and their full line of teas at precisely the same terms to Agents as though dealing directly with the company, thus giving an opportunity of selecting from the various grades any quality they may desire. We also pay agents the same commissions as allowed by the Company. Blank form of order, with price-list and "The Tea Cup," sent to any address.
PARKER, & CO.,
